CENTERS NOW OPEN FOR FALL 2021

The fall semester is here and the Learning Centers have re-opened our centers with hybrid academic support services. We are following University guidelines to provide our community of learners with a safe environment for in-person learning. In addition to in-person services, we are still offering all of our services online to ensure we are supporting a successful journey for all students.

STUDENT TESTIMONIAL

"I have been working with a writing tutor who is an excellent writer and has been teaching me how to transform my rough drafts into polished works that have made me proud. I would highly recommend this service to any student at Rutgers, and I am very thankful to the Learning Centers and to the University for offering this resource to students and for making us better writers. Thank you."
